

CANS and the IWK: Building a Better Future for Families

The IWK Health Centre is among the most respected and beloved institutions in Eastern Canada. It cares for more than 300,000 women and children from around the region each year.

In 2012, the IWK Foundation embarked on the largest fundraising effort in the history of health care in Atlantic Canada, to help transform the IWK into a centre of excellence for more of its services.

The donor-led project is redeveloping the key areas of mental health services, rehabilitation services, neonatal and pediatric intensive care and women's health services.

The Construction Association of Nova Scotia (CANS) is a proud supporter of this monumental redevelopment project.

The CANS Campaign for the IWK is raising funds to transform the IWK's neonatal intensive care unit (NICU). Construction of the state-of-the-art facility begins next year.

CANS and members of the construction industry recognize the importance of building healthy communities. As Atlantic Canadian builders, we believe in creating world-class facilities right here at home. Our families deserve nothing less.

We hope you join us on our mission to improve critical care for babies, and their families, and become champions for the IWK.

About CANS:

CANS is the leading voice of the construction industry respected by members, government, industry, and the public. CANS represents more than 760 large and small companies throughout Atlantic Canada that build, renovate, and restore non-residential buildings, roads, bridges and other engineering projects.
