

Gold Seal Certification

PROJECT MANAGER

Project Manager applicants require a combination of industry experience, education and training to challenge the Gold Seal exam and, if successful, to become Gold Seal Certified (GSC).

The total number of credits required is 100.

EXPERIENCE

(minimum of 50 credits required)

Applicants Must:

- Be currently employed as a project manager.
- Have at least five (5) years of experience as a project manager.
- Have at least three (3) years experience within the Canadian industry.
- Claim no more than two (2) years experience as a project coordinator.

Scoring Rule: For every one year of eligible experience applicants receive 10 credits (1 year = 10 credits).

To claim experience applicants must provide one project per year where they were acting in the role of project manager on the outlined project.

EDUCATION

(minimum of 25 credits required)

Formal Education

Scoring Rule: Credits awarded for the highest level of formal education related to the construction industry – check off the highest level that applies to you.

- Tradesperson qualification = 10 credits
- Industry-related technician = 20 credits
- Technologist diploma = 25 credits
- Industry-related university degree = 30 credits
- Construction management degree program = 40 credits

Industry Seminars & Workshops

Applicants can gain credits from Gold Seal accredited workshops and training. All seminars, workshops, and courses must have been taken within the last 10 years and must be a minimum of six hours in duration and have a valid certificate.

These can include:

- CANS award-winning Education & Training courses
- Mandatory Construction Ethics (online and in-class)
- Non-technical safety training (for project managers a maximum of five (5) credits for safety can be claimed)
